PARENTAL CONSENT

SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN and VULNERABLE ADULTS

The Club has adopted and implemented NSRA Policy which covers events falling under the direct control of the NSRA, the activities of coaches and other volunteers working on its behalf and its affiliated clubs. It applies principally to the protection of a children, persons under the age of 18, children, but also to vulnerable adults, generally persons over the age of 18 requiring assistance in the conduct of their affairs, have particular needs because of age, or have any form of disability.

It is generally acknowledged that there are four main types of child abuse – Physical, Sexual, Emotional and Neglect. Recognising such abuse is not always easy, but some examples are included below:

Information - The child says that she or he is being abused, or another person says they believe (or actually know) that abuse is occurring.

Injuries - The child has an injury for which the explanation seems inconsistent.

Behaviour changes - The child's behavior changes, either over time or quite suddenly; he or she becomes quiet and withdrawn, or alternatively becomes aggressive.

Reaction to others - The child appears not to trust adults, especially a parent or coach with whom she or he would be expected to have, or did once have, a close relationship, and does not seem to be able to make friends.

Appearance - The child becomes increasingly neglected in appearance, and may lose or gain weight for no apparent reason.

Sexual awareness - the child shows inappropriate sexual awareness for his/her age, and sometimes behaves in a sexually explicit way.

If you know or suspect child or vulnerable adult is subject to abuse at the Club's ranges or at any event organised by the Club, you should:

- report the incident to Dave Mullenger the Club's Child Protection Officer (CPO) dave@mullenger.me.uk or to Julian Burrows The Club's Child Protection Officer Deputy, julian.burrows@ntlworld.com
- make a written record of the event (including a note of anyone who witnessed it), and
- inform the shooter's parents of the incident.

The CPO will deal with the report in accordance with the NSRA's Guide to Policy and Procedures in respect of Safeguarding Children and Vulnerable Adults dated August 2015 copies of which are available on request.
